Principal's Corner

Dear Parents,

I am happy to see all of our students getting back into the swing of school after the nice relaxing Christmas Vacation. The students seem to be adjusting to the school schedule and we are off to an exciting start to the winter months of the school year. We have a number of events scheduled for the month of February that you should all be aware of.

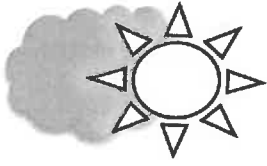

On January 25th, the PTA hosted a Bingo Night. Pizza was served at 5:30 PM and Bingo was followed at 6:30. This was a fun filled evening for the whole family. I think it was a GREAT time and as always the best PTA in the state of South Dakota did a wonderful job of hosting this event. We are very fortunate to have a high class, energetic PTA like we have!

In addition, I would like to remind all of you of the Parent / Teacher Conferences that will be hosted on February 19th and 21st. Both nights of conferences will run from 4:00-7:00 PM. Conferences are being held in conjunction with our book fair that will run from 3:00-7:00 PM on the same days. This is a great opportunity for parents to communicate with our dedicated staff in order to see how your child is doing in school. I look forward to seeing all of you in our classrooms and hallways on these two nights.

I hope the upcoming months of the school year find all of you well, and as always, if you would like to visit give me a call.

Ethan

Jan. 23, 2019

Dear Parents,

As spring approaches we will begin the process of preparing for the 2019-2020 school year. During the months of April and May our staff will begin the process of determining the best educational setting for your child. Teachers who have spent months with your child in the educational setting are often times the most adept at determining educational needs and the best fit in terms of instructor for your student. Because of this, we don't accept "teacher requests" but we absolutely want your input in terms of who you think would be a good fit for your child. So if you are inclined you may contact the office and visit with Mr. Dschaak about your thoughts for your student and his or her needs for the 2019-2020 school year. I am asking that you give me your input prior to March 31st.

Below I have listed five areas that we consider when determining the placement of your child:

1. Student to Teacher Ratio.
2. Boy to Girl Ratio.
3. Student Behaviors.
4. Student-Teacher Learning Style.
5. Parent Input.

If you have any questions about the process of student placement you are welcome to call my office anytime. You can reach me at 605.787.5295 between the hours of 7:15 AM and 3:30 PM. As always, I look forward to hearing from you and I hope I can be of assistance if you need anything.

Sincerely,

Ethan Dschaak

PORTER THE HOARDER

The 1st graders had an exciting event happen in January. We were introduced to Porter and had a big book launch! Every 1st grade student got a book to take home and were so excited about this opportunity! This book is an interactive read aloud where you get to help find the messy things in her room. This is the 1st book of a 64 part book series. The author of this book is Sean Coval, he lives in Deadwood, SD. Sean has produced movies like Beneath, 12 Dogs of Christmas, and Napolean Dynamite. His other passion was writing a book like this one and he is excited to share it with families like you! The illustrator of this book is Rebecca Swift; she lives in Bridgewater, SD. She is an established singer and songwriter who made it to American Idol and released an album titled North of Normal. Her drawings came from the inspiration of her own kid's obsessions of keeping randomness in their rooms. The books are now available to buy and we hope you enjoy it as much as we did in 1st grade!

Throughout the school year, we often get many referrals for speech and language concerns within the classroom! If a teacher or parents contact us with a concern, we will complete a short screening to check if a student's skills require further evaluation. Screenings will often focus on one or more of the following:

~Speech (Articulation): If your child has difficulty producing specific sounds or uses inappropriate sound patterns.

~Language (Receptive, Expressive, or Social): A language screening can focus on what a student understands about language, how well a student uses language, or how well a student socially communicates with others.

~Fluency (Stuttering): If a student is having a number of speech disruptions or repetitions in their speech, when compared to same-age peers, for more than six months they may have some fluency concerns.

~Voice: A voice screening will allow us to determine if the vocal quality (pitch, hoarseness, etc.) is age and gender appropriate.

~Hearing: The nurses can complete a hearing screening to determine if a hearing concern should be evaluated further.

If you have any concerns about your child's speech and language development, please don't hesitate to contact one of us today for a screening! Hope your child is having a great school year!

Head Lice 101

What You Should Know About Head Lice

Lice Lessons

Overview

Head lice are a common community problem. An estimated 6 to 12 million infestations occur each year in the United States, most commonly among children ages 3 to 11 years old.<sup>1</sup> Though a head lice infestation is often spotted in school, it is usually acquired through direct head-to-head contact elsewhere, such as at sleepovers or camp.<sup>2</sup>

Head lice are not dangerous, and they do not transmit disease.<sup>1</sup> Additionally, despite what you might have heard, head lice often infest people with good hygiene and grooming habits.<sup>3,4</sup> Your family, friends, or community may experience head lice. It's important to know some basics, including how to recognize symptoms and what to do if faced with an infestation.

Fast Facts

- An estimated 6 to 12 million infestations occur each year among US children 3 to 11 years of age<sup>1</sup>
- Head lice do not discriminate, often infesting people with good hygiene.<sup>3,4</sup> They spread mainly through head-to-head contact<sup>1</sup>
- If you or your child exhibits signs of an infestation, it is important to talk to your doctor to learn about treatment options

What are head lice?

Head lice are tiny, wingless insects that live close to the human scalp. They feed on human blood.<sup>1</sup>

When checking for head lice, you may see several forms: the nit, the nymph, and the adult louse.

Nits are tiny, teardrop-shaped lice eggs that are often yellowish or white. Nits are also what you call the shells that are left behind once the eggs hatch. Nits are attached to the hair shaft and often found around the nape of the neck or the ears. Nits can look similar to dandruff, but cannot be easily removed or brushed off.<sup>1</sup>

Nymphs, or baby lice, are small and grow to adult size in 1 to 2 weeks.<sup>1</sup>

Adult lice are the size of a sesame seed and appear tan to grayish-white.<sup>1</sup>

How are head lice spread?

- Head lice move by crawling and cannot jump or fly<sup>1</sup>
- Head lice are mostly spread by direct head-to-head contact—for example, during play at home or school, sleepovers, sports activities, or camp<sup>1</sup>
- It is possible, but not common, to spread head lice by contact with items that have been in contact with a person with head lice, such as clothing (for example, hats, scarves, or coats) or other personal items (such as combs, brushes, or towels)<sup>1</sup>
- Head lice transmission can occur at home, in the community, or—very infrequently—in school<sup>1,2</sup>

What are the signs and symptoms of infestation?

Signs and symptoms of infestation include<sup>1</sup>:

- Tickling feeling on the scalp or in the hair
- Itching (caused by the bites of the louse)
- Irritability and difficulty sleeping (lice are more active in the dark)
- Sores on the head (caused by scratching, which can sometimes become infected)

Finding a live nymph or adult louse on the scalp or in the hair is an indication of an active infestation. They are most commonly found behind the ears and near the neckline at the back of the head.<sup>1</sup>

What You Should Know About Head Lice

What if my child gets head lice?

If you suspect your child might have head lice, it's important to talk to a school nurse, pediatrician, or family physician to get appropriate care. There are a number of available treatments, including new prescription treatment options that are safe and do not require nit combing. Other things to consider in selecting and starting treatment include:

- Follow treatment instructions. Using extra amounts or multiple applications of the same medication is not recommended, unless directed by a healthcare professional<sup>5</sup>
- A 2016 study showed that 48 states now have lice that are genetically predisposed to resistance to commonly used treatments<sup>6</sup>
- There is no scientific evidence that home remedies are effective treatments<sup>7</sup>
- Head lice do not infest the house. However, family bed linens and recently used clothes, hats, and towels should be washed in very hot water and dried on the high setting<sup>5</sup>
- Personal articles, such as combs, brushes, and hair clips, should be soaked in very hot water for 5 to 10 minutes if they were exposed to someone with an active head lice infestation<sup>5</sup>
- All household members and other close contacts should be checked, and those with evidence of an active infestation should also be treated at the same time<sup>5</sup>

Myths and facts about head lice

Myth: Only dirty people get head lice.

Fact: Personal hygiene and household or school cleanliness are not factors for infestation. In fact, head lice often infest people with good hygiene and grooming habits.<sup>3,4</sup>

Myth: Head lice carry diseases.

Myth: Head lice can be spread by sharing hair brushes, hats, clothes, and other personal items.

Fact: It is uncommon to spread head lice by contact with clothing or other personal items, such as combs, brushes, or hair accessories, that have been in contact with a person with head lice.<sup>1</sup>

Myth: Head lice can jump or fly, and can live anywhere.

Fact: Head lice cannot jump or fly, and only move by crawling. It is unlikely to find head lice living on objects like helmets or hats because they have feet that are specifically designed to grasp on to the hair shaft of humans. Additionally, a louse can only live for about a day off the head.<sup>1</sup>

Myth: You can use home remedies like mayonnaise to get rid of head lice.

Fact: There is no scientific evidence that home remedies are effective treatments.<sup>7</sup> Consult your healthcare provider to discuss appropriate treatment options, including prescription products.
