Word of the Week: Describe – report what one observes or does – illustrate – report - represent

Joke: Why did the mad scientist cross a chicken with an electric organ?

Interesting Fact: There were active volcanoes on the moon when dinosaurs were alive Most of the volcanoes probably stopped one billion years ago, but new NASA finding suggest there might still have been active lava flow 100 million years ago, when dinosaurs were still roaming

Last Wednesday was Random Acts of Kindness Day on Friday we continued that tradition by raising $850 for a SWMS/SIS family who recently lost their home in a fire
