

Listed below, you'll find the preventative measures that CMCS will implement to lessen the spread of Covid-19. With these measures, our goal is to minimize the risk of transmission. While we cannot completely eliminate this risk, we hope our protocols and measures protect the children and adults who are most vulnerable. For these students, learning from home remains an option.

- CMCS is prepared for three phases of operation. Our goal is to resume school for the 20-21 school year at Phase 1. We'll continuously review our community's situation, and if needed, we'll adjust our phases of operation.
 - Phase 1: Normal running of school with safety precautions and protocols in place
 - An online curriculum will be provided to students who require distance learning.
 - Phase 2: A blended approach with an alternative schedule where a smaller group of students will attend school in-person a few days a week. For at-home days, students will be sent work to complete.
 - Phase 3: Home-based Instruction

- Open House Schedule:

At CMCS, time slots will be determined by students' last names. At Atall, Elm Springs, Hereford, and Opal, teachers will divide their families, so not everyone is in the building at the same time.
