National Arts in Education Week Sept 9-15

Is the study of fine arts important? They engage many areas of the brain and also have far-reaching effects on the learner's mind (Jensen, 2001). The arts promote the understanding and sharing of culture. They promote social skills that enhance the awareness and respect of others. The fine arts enhance perceptual and cognitive skills. The Burton study of more than 2000 children found that those in the arts curriculum were far superior in creative thinking, self-concept, problem-solving, self-expression, risk-taking, and cooperation than those who were not (Burton et al., 1999). The arts have the capacity to engage everyone. All levels of American society can and do participate in the fine arts. There are no barriers of race, religion, culture, geography, or socioeconomic levels.

Freshmen can order their class t-shirts from either Mr. Mott or Mrs. Heier by Tuesday September 18. Cost is $10 for just a shirt or $15 if you want your name on the back. See Mr. Mott to see the design.

JOKE OF THE DAY: What's the difference between the bird flu and the swine flu?

ANSWER: One requires tweetment and the other requires oinkment.

Auditions for the fall production of "An Evening with Edgar Allen Poe" will be held on Thursday, September 13 in Mr. Murphy's classroom. Everyone is welcome to audition.

Juniors: The junior class magazine fundraiser kicked off today. If you weren't at the assembly, please stop in student services to pick up the packet. Sell 6 items and receive one free prom ticket your junior year, one free prom ticket your senior year and a reduced cost on your cap and gown for graduation. A savings of at least $90! Orders are due September 18th to Pam Vinson in student services.

Are you a high school student who's making a difference through volunteering? If so, apply for the 2019 Prudential Spirit of Community Award and you could win $1,000 and a trip to Washington, D.C. in May. Access the application at spirit.prudential.com or nassp.org/spirit.
